Narrative Explanation

Annual inspection done today. ACO Joe Moore in attendance.

I have been informed that the city has purchased a building to relocate the shelter to. This building used to be occupied by Down East Kennel and Supply. This was a boarding kennel that was licensed with the state and where I have done previous inspections. They had gone out of business and now the city has ownership. I am familiar with this facility and the corrections needed to bring it into compliance with the AWA. Animal Control Supervisor Willie Boykin will be contacting me so that we can do a courtesy inspection prior to the actual move. The move in date has been scheduled for sometime in December. Officer Boykin will keep me informed. I have also been told that plans to demolish their current facility are in discussion.

The above information has brought conclusion that they will not need to redo the floors and kennel painting as long as the above plans are implemented in a timely manner. (December).

The current facility, with the exception of the floors and kennel walls, is in compliance with the AWA. This is to include paperwork.

All the animals in their care appear to be happy, healthy and injury free. The staff here puts a great deal of effort and care into the animals and their final dispositions. This is noted in the adoptions and rescue group dealings.

I will follow up with officer Boykin within the next week to discuss future plans and implementation of the new facility.
