Narrative Explanation, continued

I performed a random inspection at this facility today.

Item to correct:

.0204 Primary Enclosures / Size of Enclosure - On this inspection I have noted 2 large breed puppies (1 Rottweiller female and 1 Siberian Huskey female) that because of their size should be housed in larger cages. The store manager was not on site at the time of this inspection so I advised one of the store employees to advise the manager when he returns this afternoon to move the larger cages to the floor where they can be used to house these 2 puppies. I noted that at the present time the cages are located in the back storage room where the air conditioning does not reduce the temperature as well. This is the reason for advising the manager to move the cages. I noted the temperature in the cage room was 81.3*F today at 3:30pm. I advised the store employee that 85*F is the highest temperature allowed where puppies and kittens are housed. The store employee advised me that the air conditioning system had not been working properly this week and is being addressed.

Following up from inspection 3/2/15: The manager e mailed ,as requested, proof of Rabies vaccination and proof of treatment for 2 puppies. This well satisfied the request without having to visit the store on 3/6/15. Management was very cooperative.

A follow up inspection will be conducted in approximately 5 calendar days to ensure proper cage size is provided for these large breed puppies.
