Narrative Explanation

Random inspection performed today.

Comments:

Since the last shelter inspection all of the indoor k-9 runs have been replaced with 20 new Mason Company raised kennels. The shelter has gone beyond what is required by installing metal fencing (horse panel) above and around the bottom of the entire kennels to prevent an animal from going under the system or climbing out. There is a drain and a built in resting surface in each enclosure. Much improvement over the old system.

Today it was noted more landscaping has been done since the last inspection. With warm weather coming the area to be seeded in grass will improve the look of the shelter grounds.

There were no signs of untreated injury or illness noted.

Records meet the animal welfare requirements.

Continue to make repairs when needed. All improvements have been noted.

☐ check here if a euthanasia inspection form is attached
