Narrative Explanation

I came to the shelter today to perform an inspection in reference to an e-mail I received on some concerns at the shelter.

I arrived at the shelter and the staff was in the process of cleaning the shelter. I went over to the outside cat cages and there were no cats in the cages. The cage area has aluminium siding and tarps surrounding the kennel area. There is an opening near the top of the as you enter the kennel area. The director and I discussed adding additional tarp on the end to keep and rain out of the kennel area. The total area to be covered is no more then 6 to 8 inches in height. This will be completed with-in the next 2 weeks. The director is also looking at purchasing new cages for the outside cat area.

The other concern was about 4 Beagles housed in an outside kennel and the tarp covering the top of the kennel was half destroyed.

When I looked at the kennel there was a new tarp covering the kennel and each dog had a dog house with blankets inside the houses. The staff showed me the old blankets that had been removed and were going to be washed. I took pictures of the kennel and of the dogs and dog houses. The Beagles appeared healthy.

The shelter has tarps surrounding the the whole outside kennels. The kennels not attached to the shelter building have tarps on top of the kennels.

I took pictures of all the areas with tarps. I also looked at the other animals and they appeared healthy.

There was a flyer sent out through an e-mail showing a pregnant dog not having a resting surface to lay on. I observed the dog and she was laying on a clean comforter. I took a picture of this dog.

The temperature inside the kennel was registering 60 degrees ,which is in compliance.

The shelter vaccinates every animal that comes into the shelter and the vet tech for Dr. Conde comes almost every morning to check on the animals to see if the animals need any vet care.

While performing my inspection a volunteer with Ruin Creek Animal Protection showed up and picked up 13 puppies.
