Narrative Explanation, continued

I performed a random inspection at the Chatham Co Animal Shelter on 4/22/13. The shelter was clean and odor free.

There are a couple of issues that need addressing.

The cover for the thermostat in the Cat Adoption room needs to be fixed ASAP. The cover is gone and the wires are exposed. This is a hazard because it is with-in reach by the Cat's housed in this room.

0204- There is used equipment stored in the back of the shelter that needs to be removed. 0204- The grass also needs to be cut.

The paint is chipping in the kennels but the staff advised the kennels will be repainted sometime after the new budget year.

0207- The food storage building needs to be replaced ASAP. There are holes on the side of the building and this allows for rodent and insect to enter the building . I observed some rodent droppings and this is a health concern for the employees.

The records on the animals housed are good.

I didn't perform a Euthanasia inspection today, however I looked at the manual and the manual is complete.

These issues needed to be addressed before the next inspection which will be sometime after July 1st, 2013 .
