|---|---|---|
| | On Todays date I performed a compliant investigation on the Animal Lovers Assistance League Animal Shelter. The compliant was sent to Dr. Hunter from Ms. Jennifer Brown in an E-mail. Ms. Brown works for PETA and according to Ms. Brown, a visit by a complainant who visited the Shelter March 6th, 2010. The complaint is about the overall conditions of the Shelter. There were 2 cages stacked on top of each other in the isolation room. The cages held 2 cats in each cage with no elevated resting surfaces. There were also no resting surfaces in the other cat cages. According to the compliant 50 cats were roaming freely in the cat adoption room while the staff were cleaning the cages. | |
| | There were several bags full of garbage and piles of junk were observed a few feet from a dog enclosure. | |
| | There were approximately 18 cats housed in the isolation room many of whom exhibited signs of illness. | |
| | There were also issues with dogs in pens with only a top on the doghouses and one dog housed in a crate. | |
| | In reference to the complaint of (2) cages stacked on top of each other. I observed the stacked cages, but there was only (1) cat in each cage. The cages had food, water and a litter box. The cats had ample room to rest. | |
| | In reference to the cats running freely in the adoption room, I did observe the cats running in the room. However there were (2) employees cleaning the cages. Once the cages are cleaned the cats are returned to their cages. The cleaning was completed before I left, and the cats were back in their cages. | |
