

Commodity Fumigation Requirements

- Commodity Fumigants, such as Phostoxin, that are primarily used in grain bins and packaged as tablets or pellets have new requirements due to their inherent hazards.
- Beginning in July 2024, all commodity fumigants will require a new Private Pesticide License Category to purchase and use.
- An initial examination will be required to obtain and add the new category Z(CF) to an existing Private Pesticide License.
- 1-hour additional recertification class specific to commodity fumigation will be required every 3 years to maintain the category after initial certification.
- The commodity fumigation exam can be taken at any pesticide exam or online.
- There is a $10 exam fee that must be paid at time of exam. Online exams have additional fees.
