

Chandler James of Nashville was the winner of the N.C. Ag Star Finale that was held recently at the State Fairgrounds in Raleigh. James competed against 15 N.C. finalists ages 13 to 22 who were selected from four semifinal competitions across the state. Kaden Thrower of Cary and Trenice Atkinson of Greenville tied for second place. The third-place winner was Scarlet Tantrum of Carthage.

James has recently relocated to Nashville, Tenn. to pursue his music dreams, but can be found performing around the state. Follow James on Facebook at chandlerjmusic to see where he is performing.
