

North Carolina Botanical Garden Foundation, Inc. partnered with the Friends of Plant Conservation, Inc. to bring a new specialty license plate to North Carolina featuring the Venus flytrap. The Venus flytrap naturally grows around Wilmington, N.C. but is in danger due to habitat loss and poaching. Proceeds from license plate sales will support plant conservation, education and research throughout the state of North Carolina for the Venus flytrap and plants like it. Learn more and order yours today at ncbg.unc.edu/flytrap.