Printed certification signature page for nominee. Only necessary if signature box is not signed above.	Alan_Johnson_Reappt_form_signed_10-15-26.pdf (201 KB)
Is the nominee actively engaged in, or recently retired from, an agricultural operation?	Yes
Please explain the nominee's connection to agriculture:	Alan owns and operates a nursery and landscape consulting business. He is also an expert on native plants and stream restoration plants, which is a great resource for the Board when looking at stream restoration plans, etc.
Number of current District Supervisors actively engaged in, or recently retired from, an agricultural operation.	5

Will the appointment provide an opportunity to engage a segment of agriculture not currently being served?	Yes
Please describe how the nominee improves the ag diversity of the board:	Alan will continue to help the district engage with growers in the horticulture industry.
Will the appointment bring new leadership skills to the board?	Yes
Please describe the new leadership skills the nominee brings to the board:	Alan has continuously brought leadership to the Board over the past 21 years. He has a broad knowledge of the resource concerns in the county and was an Earth Team volunteer for the district prior to being appointed as a supervisor.
Will the appointment strengthen the political connection/influence of the district, especially at the county level?	Yes
Please describe the new advocacy skills the nominee brings to the board:	As a native of Transylvania County, Alan knows many of the local leaders and is comfortable talking with them and advocating for support of the district, both politically and financially.
Will the appointment provide representation from a portion of the county not currently represented?	Yes
Describe how the appointment improves the geographic representation for the board:	For the past 21 years, Alan has represented an area outside of the city of Brevard. Without Alan, this area of the district would not be represented by the Board.
Will the appointment improve opportunities to work with non-traditional partners?	Yes
Please describe how the appointment improves partnership opportunities for the district:	In his line of work, Alan actively engages with a variety of non-traditional partners, such as homeowners' Associations, non-farming landowners, and conservation non-profits. This allows Alan to act as a Liaison between the district and many different entities.

Will the appointment improve the make-up of the board from an agricultural/nonagricultural perspective?	Yes
Describe how the appointment improves the non-ag representation for the board:	Alan is aware of the natural resource concerns in the county and the fact that some of these concerns will not be remedied with agricultural BMPs. His work in the nursery business in urban settings has allowed the district to work with non-agricultural landowners and address resource concerns that are urban in nature.
Will the appointment improve the diversity of the board?	Yes
Please describe how the appointment improves the diversity of the board:	Alan brings a unique perspective to the Board by bridging the gap between the district and segments of the county's population such as homeowners' associations and private, urban landowners. These groups are not typically the groups that the district works with on projects.
Has the nominee shown past involvement in an organization beyond the local level?	Yes
Describe how the nominee has been involved in an organization beyond the local level:	Alan is an ordained minister and is very active in his church, family and community.
Will the appointment strengthen the District's opportunity to raise funds?	Yes
Please describe how the appointment strengthens the District's opportunity to raise funds?	Over the past 21 years, Alan has volunteered at the district's annual tree and plant sale. He is very much aware of the need for sponsorship and support from private agencies.
Will the appointment strengthen the District's education, marketing, and outreach efforts?	Yes
How will the appointment strengthen the District's education, marketing, and outreach efforts?	Since 2005, Alan has been involved in the district's 7th grade conservation field days, tree sale fundraisers and the annual appreciation banquet. Alan also was awarded the "Conservation educator of the year award" from the district in 2015 for his commitment to the district's conservation education program.

Is the nominee actively engaged in, or recently retired from, an agricultural operation?	Yes

Please explain the nominee's connection to agriculture:	My connection to agriculture comes from both my education and my hands-on experience in the field, as well as the relationships I've built in my community. I attended NC State, where I earned a degree in soil, water, and land use, which gave me a strong understanding of how agriculture and conservation work together. During college, I also worked as an intern at the Oxford Tobacco Research Farm, where I gained real, on-the-ground experience with crop production, field management, and research practices. In addition to that, I've built close relationships with many farmers in my local community. Through those connections, I've seen firsthand the challenges they face and the decisions they have to make every day.
Number of current District Supervisors actively engaged in, or recently retired from, an agricultural operation.	3
Will the appointment provide an opportunity to engage a segment of agriculture not currently being served?	Yes
Please describe how the nominee improves the ag diversity of the board:	With my background at NC State and experience working on a research farm in North Carolina, I'd focus on practical ways to help farmers increase diversity on their operations. I'd encourage using a mix of practices like crop rotation, cover crops, and adding livestock where it fits. These approaches improve soil health and make farms more resilient, especially when they're adapted to local conditions. I would also support programs that make it easier for farmers to diversify by offering better cost-share options and helping connect them to markets for different crops. Another priority would be demonstration and outreach—setting up field days and plots so farmers can see what works firsthand and learn from each other. Finally, I'd focus on simple ways to track results, like soil health and crop performance, to show what's working and keep programs effective.
Will the appointment bring new leadership skills to the board?	Yes

Please describe the new leadership skills the nominee brings to the board:	I would bring strong leadership to a soil and water board by focusing on being practical, fair, and consistent. I believe in listening to farmers, landowners, and staff to understand their needs and build trust. Good decisions come from knowing what's happening on the ground. I'd also make sure programs are realistic and useful, so they fit into real operations and not just look good on paper. I would stay focused on key priorities like soil health and water quality, while working to build partnerships that bring in more resources and support for the community. Finally, I'd make sure decisions are fair and transparent, and support staff and fellow board members so everyone can work effectively together.
Will the appointment strengthen the political connection/influence of the district, especially at the county level?	Yes
Please describe the new advocacy skills the nominee brings to the board:	I would bring strong advocacy skills by focusing on clear communication, relationship building, and a practical approach when working with elected and appointed officials. I can take complex topics like soil health and water quality and explain them in a simple way that connects to real impacts, like cost savings, flood prevention, and long-term farm productivity. This makes it easier for decision-makers to understand the value of conservation programs. I also believe in building relationships over time, not just reaching out when something is needed. Being consistent and reliable helps build trust and makes it easier to move projects forward. In addition, I would focus on presenting solutions, not just problems—offering realistic options that officials can support with confidence. Overall, I'd work to be a clear, steady voice that helps connect local conservation needs with effective decision-making.
Will the appointment provide representation from a portion of the county not currently represented?	Yes
Describe how the appointment improves the geographic representation for the board:	I would work to improve geographic representation in my soil and water district by making sure areas like Dabney—where I live and where cattle and hay production are a major part of the landscape—have a stronger voice in board activities. Because I'm centrally located, I'm in a good position to connect different parts of the county and help bring attention to areas that may be underrepresented. I would start by reaching out to local producers and landowners in the Dabney area and encouraging them to get involved, whether by attending meetings, serving on committees, or applying for board positions. I would also support holding meetings, field days, or outreach events in different parts of the county, including Dabney, so the board is more accessible and visible to a wider group of people. This helps ensure that input isn't just coming from one area. In addition, I would work to make sure programs reflect the needs of operations common in my area, like pasture management and hay production, so producers see the value in participating.

Will the appointment improve opportunities to work with non-traditional partners?	Yes
Please describe how the appointment improves partnership opportunities for the district:	I would improve partnership opportunities by focusing on building consistent relationships and finding shared goals with groups like land trusts, forest landowners, and grant-making organizations. First, I would try to connect regularly—not just when funding is needed. Meeting with these groups, learning their priorities, and keeping communication open helps build trust and makes future collaboration easier. I would also look for areas where our goals overlap, such as protecting water quality, preserving working lands, and improving soil health. By aligning projects around shared outcomes, it becomes easier to partner on initiatives and funding opportunities. Another approach would be to involve partners early in the planning process. Instead of bringing them in at the last minute, I'd work to develop projects together from the start, which leads to stronger proposals and better results.
Will the appointment improve the make-up of the board from an agricultural/nonagricultural perspective?	Yes
Describe how the appointment improves the non-ag representation for the board:	I would work to improve non-agricultural representation by expanding our focus to include urban and development-related water issues. This includes paying more attention to concerns like urban stream management, runoff from city streets and parking lots, and sediment or pollution coming from large construction sites into local streams and rivers.

	These are important issues that affect water quality and bring in stakeholders beyond agriculture.
Will the appointment improve the diversity of the board?	Yes
Please describe how the appointment improves the diversity of the board:	As a young professional with a B.S. in soil, water, and land use from NC State, I would help improve the diversity of the soil and water board by bringing a different perspective and helping connect with a broader group of people. I think diversity isn't just about background, but also about age, experience, and viewpoint. Being younger, I can help bring new ideas, current research, and a fresh approach while still respecting the experience of long-time board members and producers. I would also work to engage younger farmers, landowners, and community members who may not feel connected to the board. Encouraging their involvement through outreach, events, and open communication can help build a stronger relationship. Also, I would focus on making information more accessible, using clear communication and modern tools to reach a wider audience and keep people informed and involved.
Has the nominee shown past involvement in an organization beyond the local level?	Yes
Describe how the nominee has been involved in an organization beyond the local level:	I would use my community connections and background to help strengthen outreach, partnerships, and awareness for the soil and water board. Being a member of a local church gives me a strong connection to the community and an opportunity to share information about conservation programs with a wider audience. It also provides a trusted setting where people may feel more comfortable learning about and getting involved in soil and water efforts. As an environmental health specialist, I can bring a public health perspective to the board by helping connect water quality, runoff, and land management to real impacts on drinking water and community health. This can help broaden support for conservation programs beyond just agriculture. My involvement with organizations like the National Wild Turkey Federation and Ducks Unlimited also gives me opportunities to build partnerships focused on habitat conservation, water quality, and land stewardship. These groups have strong networks and resources that can support local projects and outreach.

Will the appointment strengthen the District's opportunity to raise funds?	Yes
Please describe how the appointment strengthens the District's opportunity to raise funds?	I can benefit the soil and water board's fundraising efforts by focusing on building local relationships and clearly showing the value of conservation work to businesses and individuals. First, I would work on connecting with local businesses and community members in a personal way, meeting with them, explaining what the board does as well as introducing them to our office staff, and showing how our work benefits the local economy, water quality, and long-term land use. People are more willing to give when they understand the direct impact. Another important piece is clearly communicating results. Showing how past funding has been used, whether for stream protection, erosion control, or conservation programs—helps build trust and encourages continued support.
Will the appointment strengthen the District's education, marketing, and outreach efforts?	Yes
How will the appointment strengthen the District's education, marketing, and outreach efforts?	I'd focus on talking with people in the community—at local events, meetings, and everyday settings—to help them understand what the district does and how it can help them. Making information easy to understand and relatable is key. I'd also help share real examples of projects and results so people can see the benefits in their own area. That builds trust and interest. Using my local connections, I'd work to spread the word through community groups, schools, and local networks to reach more people.
