They have sealed crevices in cement, repaired holes in wire cages. In had put vinyl slats under cat cages and put rubber matting between cages and floor. They left a gap between cat cages so small that they're unable to catch. They need to fill in this area with either another small cage or use tile board to cover hole. Make sure that this material is a water proof. Kittens were at risk in the room, Kelly and myself observed some kittens with possible upper respiratory infections. If you are going to hold these animals make sure you get them to isolation room ASAP. We did observe one benny puppy with hair loss that needs to be isolated. Overall good job on repairs but with over crowding. Make sure you get dogs or dogs, closer to the town.
